Guild Meeting November 12, 2024

Thirty members of the Art Guild were present. We had two guests.

Dave asked for a volunteer to be interim Board Secretary since Joanna needed to step back for a while for personal reasons.

The group was asked to start thinking about goals, activities, workshops, and guest artists for 2025. We want to hold a watercolor workshop in the Spring. Members were asked to suggest artists names to contact and when the best date would be.

The annual Art Extravaganza at Anthem Ranch is proposed for the first weekend in May. The BCAH is holding its annual Gala that same weekend and there could be a conflict with the screens. Keri, at BCAH, will be contacted.

Our Holiday Party will be held on December 10. It will again be a potluck and sign-up sheets were available at the meeting.

On-going exhibits:

1. At the library, we will have two opportunities for art displays in 2025: February to mid-April and mid-April to end of June with one week between. Tanya is coordinating.
2. BCC takedown is November 29th at 1:00 pm. Next exhibit will be March - May.
3. Ruth Mills is showing at iPie this month.
4. Carol Dillard has her art at City Hall.
5. Linden Kirby is showing at Brunner until the end of November. Laurie Adams will have her art up in January.

Art Sharing had a bunch of great examples of member artwork.

Guest Artist was Karen Conduff, an excellent oil painter who worked on an in-progress commissioned portrait of an expressive dog laying near the end of a couch. She answered many questions from very engaged members and explained her general process of getting the colors right and the 'puzzle piece' method of creating her paintings.
